

Brisbane Ranges National Park

Visitor Guide

Little more than an hour's drive from Melbourne takes you to the state's richest wildflower environment. The Brisbane Ranges National Park offers excellent opportunities for bushwalking, camping, scenic drives and picnics. Steiglitz Historic Park connects with this park's south-west corner.

Getting there

Brisbane Ranges National Park is 80km west of Melbourne via the Western Highway. Turn off at Bacchus Marsh and follow the Geelong-Bacchus Marsh Road. Turn off at Glenmore Road to access the northern reaches of the park, or at Granite Road to access Anakie and the southern end of the park.

Things to see and do

Walking

1. Ted Errey Nature Circuit – 8km, 3 hours return

Leaving Stony Creek Picnic Area, this walk climbs steadily, then descends to cross a broad watercourse and climbs again to join Outlook Track. A short walk to the east reveals a lookout with views over much of the Stony Creek Water Catchment.

Following Outlook Track to the west, the walk meanders to Switch Road, Aqueduct and Nelson Tracks, passing two excellent lookouts along the way. The walk descends to join the Anakie Gorge Walk allowing access the Anakie Gorge or Stony Creek Picnic Areas.

2. Anakie Gorge Walk – 3.5km, 1.5 hours one way

This walk follows Stony Creek and links Anakie Gorge and Stony Creek Picnic Areas, continuing to the banks of the Lower Stony Creek Reservoir along a relatively flat gradient. Signs along the track explain interesting features. The Ted Errey Nature Circuit intersects the Anakie Gorge Walk 2km (40 minutes) from Stony Creek Picnic Area and 1km (20 minutes) from Anakie Gorge Picnic Area.

3. Wadawurrung Walk – 2.5km, 1 hour return

This walk offers excellent views of Anakie Gorge over the Stony Creek Water Catchment. Starting from the Stony Creek Picnic Area, the walk heads towards Lower Stony Creek Reservoir before climbing sharply north toward Switch Road. Turn right and follow Switch Road back to Stony Creek Picnic Area. Along the way there are great views of the You Yangs and Anakie Gorge.

The Burchell Trail – 40km, 3 days one way

For the more adventurous and well organised, the Burchell Trail is a great way to see the Brisbane Ranges National Park. Starting from Fridays Camping Area or Boar Gully Camping Area, the walk follows orange track markers and uses existing walks, management tracks and public roads. Overnight camps are located at the Old Mill and Little River Bush Camping Areas. Let someone know your plans.

Picnicking

Picnic areas at Stony Creek and Anakie Gorge have wood barbecues (bring your own wood), toilets, picnic tables and seats. Anakie Gorge Picnic Area also has gas barbecues. Other picnic grounds have only basic facilities.

Camping

There are two camping areas in the park - Boar Gully (seven sites) in the north, and Fridays (ten sites) near Steiglitz. Both have basic pit toilets and tank water, plus designated camp trailer or caravan sites.

Bookings are required for all campsites including the Bushwalkers Only sites along the Burchell Trail. Camping fees apply. For further information or to book go to www.parks.vic.gov.au/stay

Plants and animals

Some 619 native plant species, about one fifth of Victoria's total, can be found in the ranges. Brisbane Ranges Grevillea is found only along the Rowsley Fault. Velvet Daisy-bush is rare and found only in scattered locations across the state and Golden Grevillea is found elsewhere only in Gippsland.

In spring, there is a magnificent display of grasstrees, wattles, hakeas, bush peas and a variety of orchids.

Keep an eye out for kangaroos, wallabies, echidnas, possums and gliders. There are 170 species of native birds recorded in the park. Two species to look out for are the Yellow-tufted Honeyeater and nocturnally active White-throated Nightjar.

Facilities

Toilets are available at the Stony Creek and Anakie Gorge picnic areas and also at each of the campgrounds. Visitors should bring their own drinking water. There is tank water in some areas, but it is not suitable to drink even if treated.

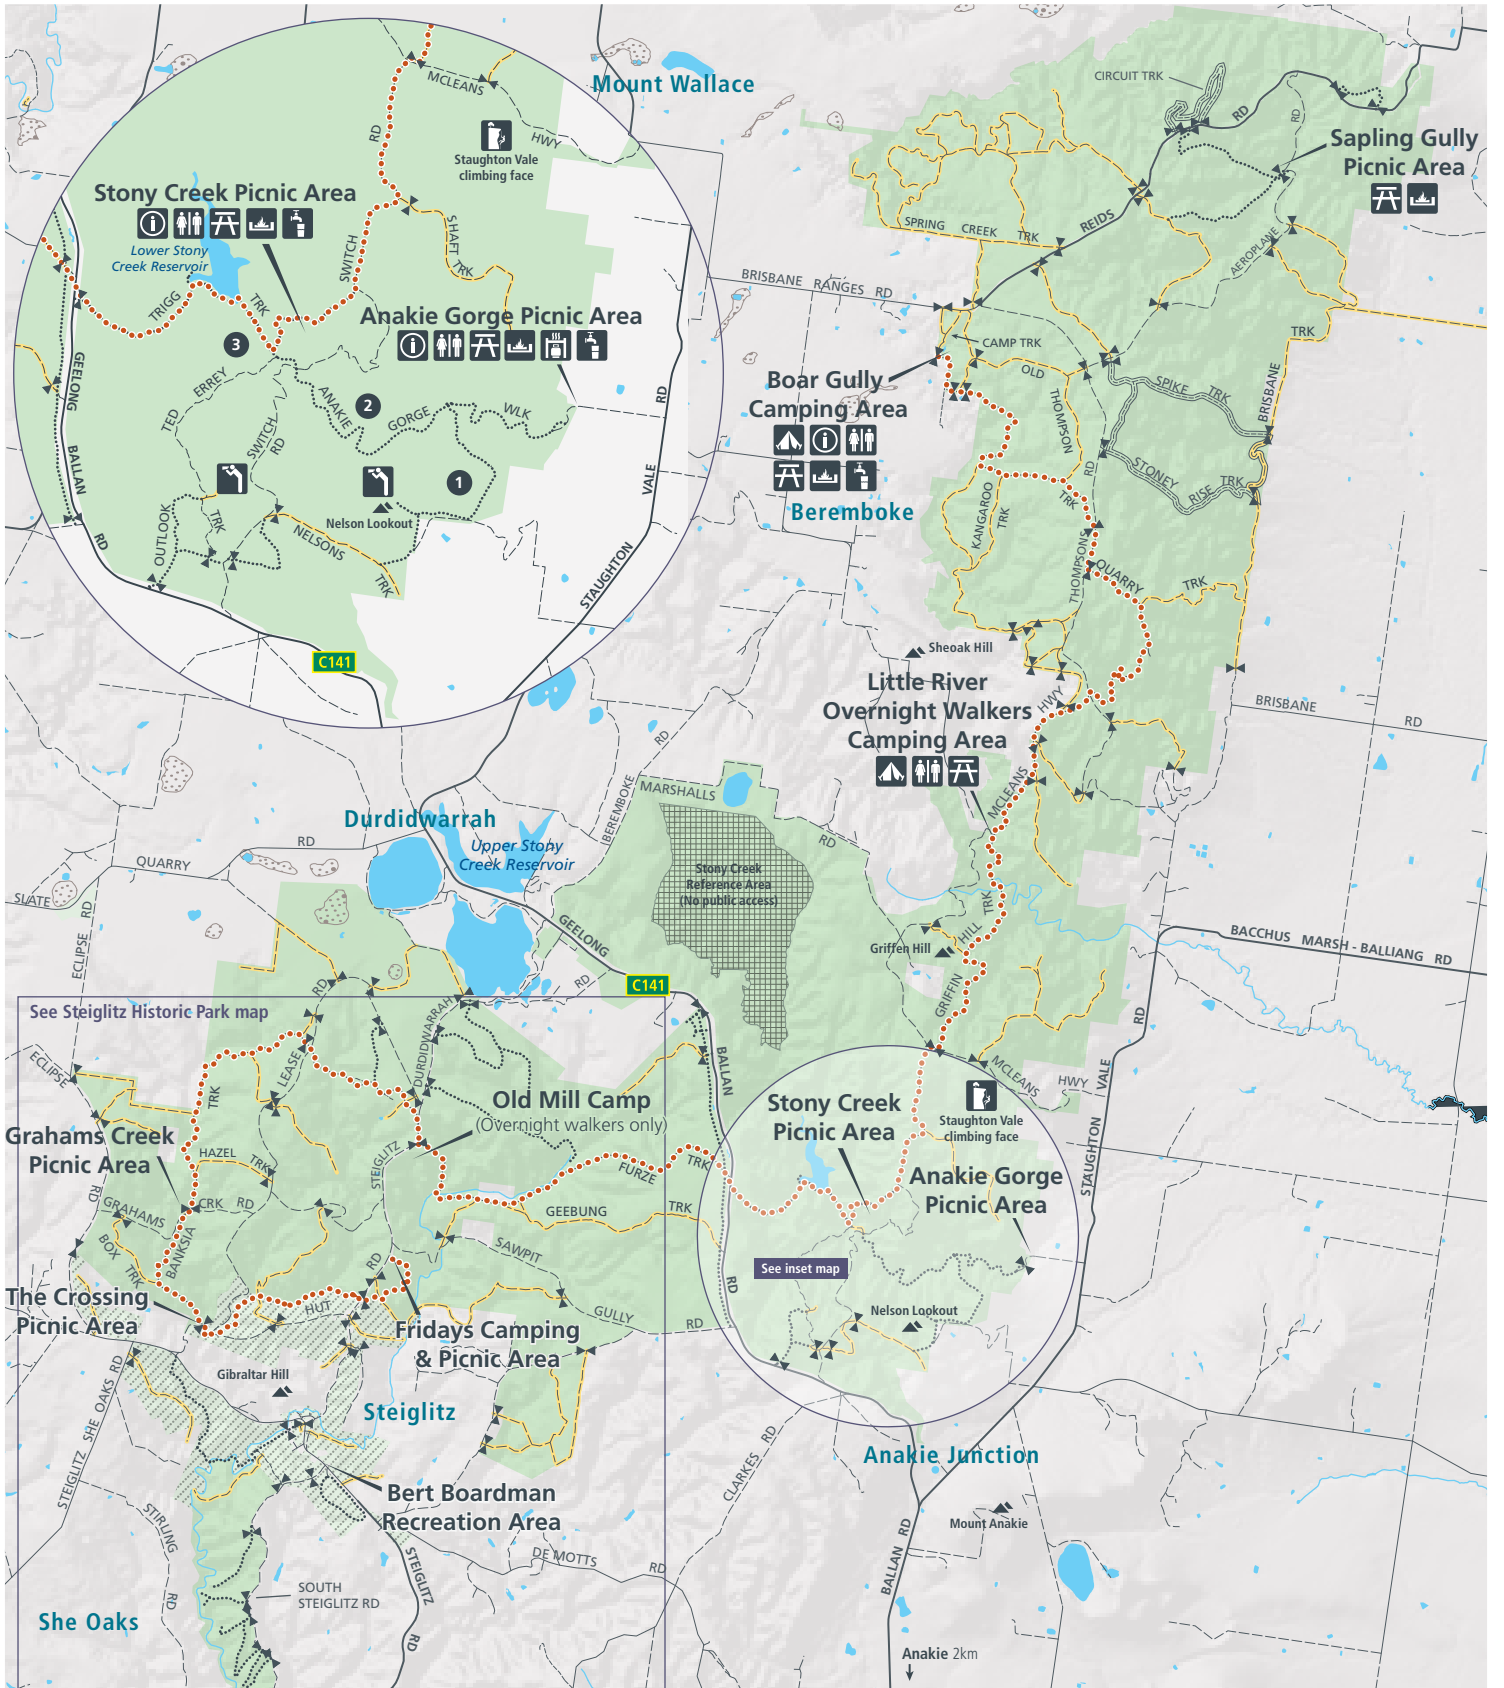

Please take all rubbish away for disposal or recycling.

Help prevent the spread of disease

Cinnamon fungus (Phytophthora cinnamomi) invades the fine roots of plant species causing roots to rot and ultimately plant death. You can limit the spread of the disease by preventing the movement of infected soil. Please use the available foot hygiene stations and obeying all signs relating to the management of this silent killer.

Be prepared and stay safe

For emergency assistance call Triple Zero (000). If there is a green emergency marker sign near you, read the information on the marker to the operator. Brisbane National Park is in the Central fire district. Bushfire safety is a personal responsibility. Anyone entering parks and forests during the bushfire season needs to stay aware of forecast weather conditions. Check the Fire Danger Rating and for days of Total Fire Ban at www.emergency.vic.gov.au, on the VicEmergency smartphone app or call the VicEmergency Hotline on 1800 226 226. No fires may be lit on Total Fire Ban days. On Catastrophic Fire Danger Rating days this park will be closed for public safety. Warnings signs may be erected, but do not expect a personal warning. Check the latest conditions at www.parks.vic.gov.au or by calling 13 1963.
